Suggestions for a successful audition for Joseph and the Amazing Technicolored Dreamcoat.

- You only need to attend one audition. Please know you may be called back on
- You are welcome to bring a resume and/or headshot, but it is not required.
- Practice with the backing track provided as it is what will be played with your audition
- Be Resilient! If the backing track isn't to your liking, find a way to make it your own, be creative, have fun.
- Tell a story during your vocal audition. Your vocal audition IS your acting audition.
- The roles of "The Brothers" CAN be played by female actors. Females may audition for any brother role, but know you will be "transformed" into a man for the role.
- There will be a "movement class" in the second half of the audition. After vocal auditions, we will do a "Dance Class" with the choreographer. This is just to see how you move. Please wear or bring clothes that allow you to move. You do not have to prepare a dance. You will be taught a short combination that you will perform.
- You will have an opportunity on your application to indicate if you want a particular role. It does not guarantee that role, but allows you to indicate your preference.
- If you are only interested in a "Dancer Position", you are still asked to vocally audition. I would suggest signing the Narrator's audition song.
- Although most roles below are for males, there are plenty of female roles (Nile Dancers, Jacob's Wives, etc).
- If you have any questions about auditions, feel free to email me at TLCverobeach@gmail.com
